00301

1955/05/06

Korea

FRIDAY
May 6, 1955
2:31 p.m.

The Dwight D. Eisenhower Library

TELEPHONE CALL TO THE PRESIDENT

The Sec. said we are thinking of letting Collins come back and sending over our regular ambassador. He is anxious to come back and we are going to be in a series of crises for some time. The Pres. said he approved Farendal(?) - he knows him well and he is a good man - experience in Korea. The Pres. said you better get him out right away. The Sec. asked with Reinhardt, and the Pres. said yes.

The Pres. said when we call him the call should go in directly and not through anyone. He is always available to the Sec.

2:41 p.m.

TELEPHONE CALL FROM THE PRESIDENT

What was the additional idea? The Sec. said that we could discuss the unification of Germany with Germans present.

pdb